A Case of Securitate Dossier Burial in Romania

by István ADORJÁN

With this article, I publish the documents in my personal archives and some comments referring to the burial of my Securitate dossier after the 1989 “revolution” in Romania.

On around 23 April 1993, I received the following letter from the Romanian Intelligence Service in Târgu Mureș:

Translation from the Romanian language: Romania, Military Unit 05081 Târgu Mureș, / No. 53039 of 5 April 1993. / To Mister, István ADORJÁN, Târgu Mureș, December 22 Street, No. 25, Flat 10. / To Your request addressed to our unit on 6 March the current year, through which you ask us to issue some excerpts necessary for settling a litigation you have with the Târgu Mureș Court, we communicate to you that we do not possess such data regarding Your person. / Chief of Unit, [Indecipherable signature]. This letter is sufficiently ambiguous to preclude neither the possibility of my having, nor the possibility of my not having a dossier in the archives of the former Securitate. It suggests that I may have some sorts of data there.

Putting the accent on my surname, or not putting it on my first name, both in the letter and on the envelope, may be interpreted as a camouflaging mockery referring to that in my birth-certificate and identity papers the Hungarian accent is lacking from the surname, as can be seen below:

On the one hand, this accent mockery, as well as the ironically exaggerated politeness — by using capital initials with “You” and by using the long forms “Domnului” (To Mister) and “Dumneavoastră” (You) instead of the usual abbreviations “D-lui” (To Mr.) and respectively “Dvs.” — suggest that the letter was written after examining data or getting instructions on my person. On the other hand, the unusually long answering time of around one month and a half can also make one admit the existence of such data in the archives of the former Securitate.

More than 21 (twenty-one) years later, on 23 September 2014, I posted an application to the National Council for the Study of the Archives of the Securitate, as can be seen on the Acknowledgement of Receipt below:

N. S. A. There arises the question: when was my Securitate dossier “not classed to the archives”? It is a fact that during the “revolution” in December 1989 I was imprisoned for fraudulent crossing of frontier, as can be seen on the Ticket-of-Leave below:

Consequently, my dossier — if it was a regular Securitate dossier — must have been “not classed to the archives” after the events in December 1989.

Another question is: who did “not class it to the archives”? One may answer: some members of the former Securitate, who feel the most responsible for dealing with my case. But that would mean that their “In Attention” activity comprised not only a mere shadowing, but also graver secret crimes of the kind I mentioned in my asylum applications between 1990 and 2014 for evidences of the persecution actions of the Romanian and the Hungarian secret political organizations termed by me “national conspirational imperialist organizations.” Therefore, in my conception, the perpetrator is unambiguously the Romanian national conspirational imperialist organization corporately, and it did not let my dossier “classed to the archives” of the Securitate, because that has always primarily or exclusively been part of its own secret archives.

In July 2001, in the Refugee Reception Station in Békéscsaba, Hungary, I “met” a former Securitate officer, allegedly captain, naming himself DAN Ioan Ionuț. After the “revolution,” he became an officer of the SRI. Probably in the late 1990s, because of his armed participation in an action against the Government, he was discharged with a pension. During July–August 2001, he continuously threatened my corporal integrity and life. Once he told me in a drunken state, probably for a provocation: “I knew about your leavings of Romania [in the 1990s]...” (According to my experience of life, some people use the drunken state to self-maskingly say something they want to, but will not say in a normal condition.) This suggests that my case has still been “In Attention” of the SRI as well. and my dossier “was not classed to the archives” of the Securitate just because of this reason. After all, the envelope of the Securitate lived through the “revolution;” the former Securitate remained in a measure within the SRI; then, no wonder that some Securitate dossiers are useful for the SRI as well.

Otherwise, the Romanian state that the SRI defends is the direct product of the two world wars, and as such it first of all expresses the interests of the victorious “Great Powers,” mainly “France” and “Russia.” Consequently, the present demographic and territorial conformation of the Romanian state is not likely to express the interests of the Romanian people and the people in Romania.

The Romanian national conspirational imperialist organization would have a single chance to get rid of this evidence on its existence and actions, particularly, and on the existence and actions of the national conspirational imperialist organizations, generally. That would be a mass destruction of the Securitate dossiers, not only in Târgu Mureș, but also in almost all localities with Securitate offices in Romania. I think, that is not the case.

For more information about my experiences and conception on the Romanian and other national conspirational imperialist organizations, one may read my other publications. So far, I have succeeded in publishing the following: 1) the Hungarian-language and paperback version of my book entitled “Towards the Iron Curtain of the Hungarian Communist State,” (A magyar kommunista állam vasfüggönye felé), in Romania and Hungary; 2) the English-language and electronic version of my book entitled “Towards the Iron Curtain of the Hungarian Communist State,” with the internet distributor Kobo; 3) the English-language and electronic version of my article entitled “Romanian Budapest-Consulate Unlawfulness on 30 September 2014,” with the internet distributors Google Play and Kobo; 4) the English-language and electronic version of my article entitled “Romanian Budapest-Consulate Unlawfulness on 31 October 2014,” with the internet distributors Google Play and Kobo; 5) the Romanian-language and electronic version of my book entitled “Documents and Objects relative to My Fraudulent Crossings of the State Frontier of the Socialist Republic of Romania” (Înscrișuri și obiecte relativ la trecerile mele frauduloase ale frontierei de stat a Republicii Socialiste România), with the internet distributor Google Play; 6) the English-language and electronic version of my book entitled “My Restrained Asylum Documents and Their Restraint,” with the internet distributor Google Play. Also, under preparation is my e-book entitled “My Arisen Essential Asylum Documents and Their Essence.”
